Guided Instruction:

The mission and purpose of this class have been to:

1. Introduce students to the great potential and endless possibilities hidden within them.
2. Engage in activities that are purposed to uncover that potential.
3. Find ways to exercise it!

With these three points in mind that are designed to be the catalyst to bring about the change in your students.... Brainstorm how your class intends to showcase all the wonderful treasures found this year!!

Remember:

No matter how seemingly small their ideas and creations may seem, a small rudder on a huge ship is responsible for turning it in the right direction.

The tongue is a tiny part of the human body, yet it has the power to say positive things and life-giving or negative and destructive.

Small things CREATE and BUILD big things!!

Activity One

What to do next:

1. Create a Job Assignment list (This starts in the next lesson).
2. Put your class in categories according to their job.
3. Break up into groups (see below).

Activity Two

Group Questions:

1. What are you doing for your showcase?
2. Who are we inviting to our showcase?
3. Are you singing, rapping, and dancing, or are you just showing off poetry and art projects?
4. Will you do role modeling, art discussions, sports activities, or written material? What are you doing? Basketball, sports competition?

PRESENTATIONS

Presentations- This is where all written work created by your students can be displayed or spoken by them or role played or shown theatrically. It combines all the written and artistic work from the year. (This is where we go through our PAS folders, pull all our work out, and choose what we will use for our production.)

Small group presentations role play!

Break the class up into small groups.

Choose a fun topic that you know about (suggestions: popcorn, ice cream, chips, soccer, etc.)

Write three sentences each.

Present it to your small group.

Here's an example that you can use to invite your school, principal, teachers, family, and community to your showcase.
