Projector Strategy

Your "strategy" is how you attract the things you want into your life.

Projector strategy is "To Wait for the Invitation"

- If a projector shares advice, wisdom or gifts without being asked or invited to (energetically) then they are often disregarded. If they share when not invited, they are often be perceived as bossy, pushy, etc
- It is important for you to wait for an invitation. Two things need to be in place for the correct energy exchange of this strategy:
 - Space in the other persons aura for the wisdom or gift to land (aka -the other person is open to receiving)
 - The other person recognizes or SEES that you have something to share.
- What does waiting for the invitation look like?
 - Paying attention to and investing in the niches that you are good at. As you do this, other people will subconsciously pick up on your aura, they will notice your gifts and know that you have something to share. When others see this they receive your energy differently.

How to Know When You Are NOT Living Your Design?

- You will experience "bitterness" - You will find yourself focusing too much on what is going wrong or what is not going right in life. When you notice this, you should realize you are giving energy and focus to things that are not energetically correct for you. It is time to remove your energy from the things that are not enhancing your life or lifting you up. Bitterness is a guide for when it is time to make changes. Classic projector bitterness sounds like "they didn't... or they did...etc"

How to Know When You ARE Living Your Design?

- You will experience success (on the outside) - it means you are sharing what you need or are here to share and living according to your design.

Projector Tips for Realignment

Consider these tips as you work through this journal...

- Waiting for the invitation is not a passive thing. There are things you can do to curate your energy so others see you your genius. Create a container for your gift. Examples - create a product, service or art, start a project or business. write articles or a book, start a blog, post on social media or become an expert in an area of your passion.
- The key to your success is discovering your gifts. Notice your own genius. What are the things that you could do in your sleep? What are you fascinated by? Be light and be curious. If you are unsure, indulge in learning and exploration or ask the universe for guidance.
- There is power in waiting. Waiting for the invitation is contrary to the conditioning of the world which says to just go out there and grab things. The things that come to the projector are in direct proportion to how well they recognize their genius, how great they think we are, or how grateful they are for their gifts. When you see how your gift is of value to the world, your energy will align and attract invitations.
- The "invitation" is not always verbalized. It is an ENERGETIC invitation and is not always a spoken invitation. Note the energetic context behind the exchange. Here are some examples of invitations:
 - Someone seeing what you are good at and saying "Wow you are so good at x" and asking for advice or asking you to share your gifts.
 - People buying product or service from you is an invitation.
 - People following you on social channels is an invitation.
- Sooner Action is NOT better action. Taking ALIGNED action will get you to where you want to be. Conserve your energy, wait to be asked and then take aligned action.
- Remember, that not every invitation is energetically correct for you. Be sure to check in with your inner knowing (authority) to determine if an invitation is in alignment with you. Don't be afraid to pivot or say "no" to things. Projectors are here to shine a light on things - what you see is never a waste of your time BUT you don't have to fix everything.
